THE PELLEGRI LOAN.

It is a great pity that the Argentine Government fails to see that the two great evils on which the finances of the country are nearly wrecked are paper-money and foreign loans. Since the month of January the republic is engaged in the arduous task of going up-hill with a burdened treasury, heavy expenditure and low prices, and the overwhelming weight on our shoulders has been increased by a new loan for $4,000,000 sterling, and what is worse, with a fresh issue of paper-money, at a moment when the currency is the base of our commercial existence. This lengthens the journey and adds to our financial woes, although it affords temporary relief.

Since the crisis broke out last January the Government has been falling from one error into another, that crippled the Treasury, by the launching of a home loan, the country has begged a gold loan in the London market, and the most onerous conditions, and has resorted to the ruinous policy of increasing the paper-issue of one of the State banks, to fill up the gap in the Finance Office. Such measures will drive the country far away from return to specie payments, and the danger is that such a ruinous precedent will be repeated and increase the burden that should be lightened by cutting down expenditure.

It is difficult to conceive how such financial errors can find advocates in the Government House and in the press. The loan might be excused as a forlorn necessity, but the issue of paper is such a glaring mistake that we see both State banks actually restricting discounts at a period when such a policy must be condemned as fatal. It is not so much the amount of paper money issued that affects the financial situation as the wide-spread distrust it generates at home and abroad that if this is done once it may be repeated as often as crying wares are heard in the Government House. Distrust is the key note of the market, and until confidence returns it is idle to anticipate any great improvement in the situation.

If we wish to fathom the financial abyss into which we have fallen, let us glance at the past. Had anybody surmised last January that the National Government would be able to launch a loan of $4,000,000 sterling, to secure 12 millions of dollars, he would have looked on the crisis as a summer storm that would pass, exhaust its violence, and leave the financial horizon clear; but to-day, in spite of loans and paper money, nobody believes in any speedy improvements, and even if the Government were to launch another $5 million sterling loan, we feel convinced that the situation would still continue heavy and difficult.

The rock on which the market is bumping is the rooted conviction that all this gold and all this paper money are already spent, and the belief is so strong that gold still holds firm above 40/6 premium. It is idle to suppose that this policy of patching finances will remove the evils of the crisis; London loans and bank notes only add to the financial burden on the country at a moment when it is in no humor to bear them. It is too late this year to talk of retrenchment, but circumstances will crowd together and force the Government to cut down expenditure.

We are in the midst of the busy season when everything should be buoyant; the State Banks are drawing exchange and restricting paper; the harvest and the clip are in full swing; the hundred thousands! What are the paltry effects of all these favorable and forcible causes. They are not entirely negative, but our rate of exchange on Europe is still low and our gold premium is still high; and if this be the case in the lap of the produce season what may we expect in the dull months of winter?

It would be an ungrateful task to add to the above the problematic prospects of a Presidential election, but we may as well confess that the distrust that has seized the market is both political and financial, and the only silver lining to the cloud of unfavorable circumstances, among which we are groping our way, is the bright hope that we shall turn over a new leaf after the Presidential election. Let the Government, meantime, turn to the best account the London gold that is coming out, but let it not be thrown on the speculative arena of the Bolsa, where it will be absorbed by the greedy sponge of brokers.

Sofia, Wednesday (Delayed in this morning).—At half past two this morning a second flag of truce from the Servians came to Tzaribrod to propose an armistice, which was refused by the Bulgarian Army with probability the Bulgarian Army will continue its onward march. Surprised is expressed at the Bulgarian headquarters that the Servians are still on Bulgarian territory, and that no war indemnity has yet been fixed.

Sofia, 26th 2 p.m.—The Bulgarian troops are advancing towards Plovdiv. It is not known whether they have encountered the enemy.

Marshal Serrano, Duke de la Torre, died yesterday morning at Madrid.

Throughout Europe the deepest regret is expressed for the untimely death of King Alfonso XII. It is believed in Madrid that the Queen-Regent will entrust Señor Sagasta with the formation of a new Cabinet.

According to a Reuter despatch from Teheran, Ayoub Khan, formerly made his submission, and the Persian authorities have decreased the number of his guards.

It is announced by Reuter from Melbourne that the Colonial Treasurer has introduced a bill in the House of Assembly for a loan of $8,000,000.

Polling took place yesterday in ten metropolitan boroughs, forming twenty-two constituencies, and the results, together with those not declared on the preceding day, were largely in favor of the Conservatives. In the City Sir R. N. Fowler and Mr. Hubbard were returned by large majorities, Mr. Low (Liberal) being third, and Mr. Alderman Cotton last. All the Lambeth constituencies returned Conservatives. The borough which polled yesterday, so far as declared, have returned eleven Conservatives and seven Liberals. Among others, Sir Henry Holland was elected for Hampstead; the Marquis of Lorne being defeated; Mr. Burdett-Coutts for Westminster; Mr. Board for Greenwich; Colonel Duncan for Highbury; and Lord Charles Beresford for the Tower of Hamlets divisions. Of the large majority for East Marylebone, have returned Liberals and three Conservatives; and Southwark has chosen two Liberals and a Conservative. The results in the Kensington and Clapham divisions will be announced this morning.

The chief provincial contest yesterday was in Manchester, which returned Conservative and only one Liberal, among the defeated candidates being Mr. Jacob Bright. Halifax and Leicester each returned two Liberals; Mr. Fry secured his seat for Darlington; and Sir T. Brassey was successful at Hastings.

After the close of the poll in Nottingham last night great excitement prevailed, and a large body of police recruited from the neighboring towns had to charge the crowd, and many persons were injured.

Apart from the settlement, there was not much business in the Stock market yesterday. Most of the international foreign bonds, including Egyptian, Hungarian, Russian, and Turkish debt, were quiet. American railways showed firmness, while Canadian and Mexican receded, and English were inactive. No change occurred in the Funds. A small amount of gold was sent into the Bank.

Belgrade, 26th.—The despatch of the second class of the Reserves to the front has been resumed. The Timok and Morava Divisions left to-day. The Drina Division are already at the front. The Belgrade Division, armed with Peabody rifles, was yesterday preparing to start for the front. Recruits of twenty and upwards who have not yet been called out for service are now being everywhere enrolled. The total number of these recruits is about 8,000 men. Meanwhile, the Servian troops have, according to the official despatches, withdrawn to Piro, owing to the bad weather, leaving only outposts in the advanced position.

A Cabinet Council was held to-day. The Ministers will probably leave this evening for Piro to confer with the King. They have resolved on tendering their resignations on account of the military and political failure which has overtaken them.

A diplomatic conference between the representatives of the Powers took place yesterday evening at the Russian Legation, when the conditions of peace were in informal way discussed.

Vienna, 26th.—The steps taken by the Powers to bring about an armistice were, the Political Correspondent states, rendered futile in Sofia by the perversion of the Bulgarian general in refusing to allow telegrams in cipher to pass over their wires. In order to prevent further deplorable consequences the Powers are informed of the intentions of the Powers and their desire to avert more bloodshed. The Austrian Government has instructed Count Khevenhüller, the Austrian Minister at Belgrade, to proceed to the Bulgarian headquarters with this object, and also for the purpose of dissuading Prince Alexander from making any further attempts under any circumstances to force his way into Servia.

Philippopolis, 26th.—The town is crowded by recruits from all parts of the country, who are continually engaged at drill. Some of the slightly wounded soldiers who were sent here to the army in the fall as soon as they are discharged from hospital, large quantities of supplies are daily despatched to Sofia. Official bulletins regarding the progress of the war are impatiently awaited by the public. Two hundred Servian prisoners, including two officers, arrived here this morning.

possibility of a peaceful restoration of the status quo ante, notwithstanding the submission of Prince Alexander to the Sultan. The Roumelians, in fact, say that it was only the threatening attitude of Servia which furnished the Powers with reason for opposing the union of Eastern Roumelia.

New York, 26th.—Mr. Hendricks died at Indianapolis. After attending the reception last night, he complained of pains in his side and stomach, and as they had not subsided this morning a physician was summoned, who administered an emetic. The deceased resided in his room all day, keeping his bed for the greater part of the day. He died about five p.m. with Mr. Hendricks receiving visitors, so none being present at the time. His face gave no indications of pain or suffering. The cause of death was paralysis of the brain.

New York, 26th.—A universal feeling of sorrow was produced when President Cleveland received the official news of the death of Vice-President Hendricks. The President immediately summoned a Cabinet Council, and gave orders for naval and military honours to be paid to the memory of the deceased, and for the usual mourning preparations. The Senate will meet in Washington to take the action required by the circumstances. The vacancy created will be filled by the Senate electing a president pro tem, who will become the acting Vice-President of the United States.

THE SERVO-BULGARIAN WAR.

THE FIGHTING ON SATURDAY.

THEATRICALLY ACTION BY THE PORTS.

London, 24th.

The Press Association is officially informed that the Government has received information from the front that King Milan has been able to bring his army into operation with the Drina and Morava divisions, and a simultaneous attack upon Svitava is now expected momentarily, and will, it is expected, be decisive. It is believed in official circles that, should Servia be victorious, an armistice will be accepted, which would allow of a Conference of the Powers to settle the terms of peace.

Telegraphing from the headquarters at Tzaribrod yesterday, the correspondent of the Standard gives the following account of the situation and of the fighting on the preceding day:—

"There was no fighting on Friday, but armies being totally exhausted by the prolonged struggle in front of Svitava. The weather has also been very severe. The Drina Division occupied the heights near Yartovitsa and Solints, and the Morava Division, being to the west of the Sofia plain, opposite the Viskar Mountains. Early on Saturday morning our left wing and the Bulgarian redoubts. They descended into the plain and were soon engaged in a sanguinary struggle. Our Krupp batteries, composed of guns which had been taken in 1877 from the Turks, bombarded the Bulgarian centre, and the infantry forced their way forward step by step in the plain. At noon a brigade of the Shumadia division attacked the Bulgarian position opposite the Viskar Mountains, and another force pressed forward in a northern direction. The enemy then tried to occupy a range of heights, as to cut the advancing Servian troops in two, but they were driven back after a fierce hand-to-hand struggle by the Morava Division, which was assisted by a simultaneous attack of the Drina Division.

At four o'clock in the afternoon the Bulgarian left wing fell back, and the Morava Division succeeded in effecting a junction with the main force. The Servian duel was kept up until late in the night, assisted by a clear moon and starlight. Yesterday (Sunday) 40,000 men, with 160 guns, among them 48 Krupp, were massed opposite Svitava, and the Servian right wing was expected to soon debouch into the plain and attack the Svitava-Sofia road." In a last telegram, dated noon yesterday, the correspondent adds:—The Drina Division, commanded by Colonel Masevich, has also succeeded in forcing its way through, and has joined the main body of the army. The enemy has been driven back, and the Servian right wing was expected to soon debouch into the plain and attack the Svitava-Sofia road.

Notice.

I beg to advise my Customers and the Public in General that finding my Drapery Business increasing, and being unable to devote the requisite attention to the Grocery Department, I have decided to wind up the latter, and to sell the Premises with the extension of the Drapery Business, as possible.

Taking this opportunity of thanking the public for past favors, and hoping to be still more worthy of them in the future.

I remain, Sir, Yours respectfully,

No change whatever has occurred in the market, the business done today being very insignificant, no doubt, owing to the heavy downpour of rain. Gold, if anything was done today, was done last Saturday, and many brokers believe that it will be even higher than that at present. The rails stopped all business, the Plaza was deserted this morning, and even on the Bolea the total amount of the day's transactions was only $75,000, being the smallest day's business since the beginning of the month. The Codia market was even more neglected, only half a dozen small sales being marked up. The hall was very empty, and the least, strange to say, very oppressive.

Gold opened for cash at 141.00, 135.00, and closed at 141.00. For Dec. 20th, 2300 sold at same price, and for end of month 16,000, opening at 141.75, falling to 141.00, and closing with sellers at 141.00. For January 31st, 50,000
disposed of at 142.00.

disposed of at 142.00.

On the 26th of the month, the French package was nothing doing in exchange, and there was no change in the market. The
